Good afternoon,

There will not be a public presentation on the Abolitionist Place artwork included in next week's PDC hearing. PDC is including it on the consent agenda in acknowledgement of responses to their requests following the artist's January presentation; this most notably includes the public engagement outline subsequently submitted to PDC by the artist (see attached), which will have to be completed before the artwork is submitted to the local community board and PDC for the next round of review. Aside from this, the proposal is largely unchanged from what the artist presented in January. The artist is set to begin community engagement in the weeks ahead; to offer feedback to the artist and/or receive updates on community engagement, you can send an email to percentinfo@culture.nyc.gov.

Best,

Ryan

Can you please forward the current application today so that we can review it?

Peace be with you,

Todd

Ryan and Kendal,

Would you be able to provide the current PDC application for the artwork in Abolitionist Place (Park), item 27861 on the agenda?

Best wishes,
Todd Fine
